

Bowel Cancer is New Zealand's most common cancer

Over 3000 Kiwis are diagnosed each year with bowel cancer - but there's good news. If caught early bowel cancer is treatable and beatable.

If you experience any of these symptoms, talk to your doctor.

- Persistent change in bowel habit over several weeks
- Abdominal pain, especially if severe
- Bleeding from the bottom
- A lump in your abdomen
- Unexplained anaemia found by your GP
